MISSIONARY PRAYER BOOK

The Holy Spirit is the source of power in your life; however, your greatest outlet of spiritual power is prayer. I can do more for God through prayer than I can through any other means—including service. Prayer binds the strong man of the house, whereas service is going in and taking the spoil. Until you have prayed, there is no use in trying to do anything more. After you pray, you can then take action—but prayer must be first. Your service to God, though important, is limited to one place. Prayer, however, is limitless in its scope. Prayer can reach around the world.

Through prayer I can spend one-half hour of my life in South America doing work for the kingdom of God by strengthening the hands of the missionaries, and then I can go to Mexico and spend time with my friends who are ministering there. I can help them by praying for the effectiveness of the tracts they distribute and the words they speak. Then I can move into China and pray for the church there. I can touch a world for God through prayer, right from my own closet.

Will Abuzaid

Will is pastoring a church plant in Barcelona. Through evangelism, establishing and equipping the saints, he is fulfilling his call to reach the lost and build up the saved through teaching the word chapter by chapter, verse by verse; and through discipleship, creating laborers that will go out to repeat the process in the church and through out Spain.

PRAYER REQUESTS

Pray for me to stay the course in faithfulness in pastoring, teaching and managing the ministry that God has given me here; for my personal walk with the Lord and to love the sheep I serve; for each member to use the grace given to them to serve in our fellowship; for those that are discipled to continue to grow in their faith, to get established and equipped; for the on-line students and for the impact they will have in their future ministries; that God would use this church to reach the lost and build the saved in this upcoming 6th year of ministry! Pray for the approval for us to be a registered church.

Stephen & Patricia Apple

Stephen and Pat founded CC Tel Aviv in 2004, with a vision of teaching God's Word verse by verse to the Jewish people and others. They established various ministries to care for the poorest of the Tel Aviv inner city. Stephen began discipling and training Israeli leaders to oversee the ministries and much of the church functions, which freed them up to train others to serve in Israel through free training videos. Hundreds of people and churches across America have been trained to start their own ongoing Israel ministry. The work continues to grow with local ministries springing up from the church. Since COVID-19, they have begun a second service on Sundays to give people more options and space. Adopt-a-Missionary GOAL: To develop a close tie with our newly adopted missionary.

PURPOSE: Missionaries are all too soon forgotten by friends. After a few months pass, lives readjust and the missionary's absence is no longer as painful. Letters and contact with the missionary become sporadic, dwindle, and often come to a halt.

The missionary, already dealing with the loss of everything familiar, as well as readjustment, culture shock, and stress, all of a sudden feels alienated and forgotten. The loneliness can become a bitter, powerful tool of the enemy.

Once a missionary does adjust to his or her new home, life is fast-paced, and spare time is a real treasure. Exhaustion becomes a constant companion along with the continual struggles and challenges life presents.

The most important thing is for a missionary to know (experientially) is that someone is standing behind his or her endeavors, to know they are not forgotten, and to know they are being prayed for.

IDEAS: Here are some simple, practical ideas you can adopt for your new "extended family member" so he or she will know you are there!

1. PRAY DAILY - To help keep this commitment ...

   A. Obtain a picture prayer card of your adoptee.

   B. Post the prayer card on the bathroom mirror, breakfast table, refrigerator, kitchen window, car dashboard, alarm clock, television, laundry room, or in any conspicuous place.

   C. Pray for the specific needs included in this booklet or on the e-mail prayer requests that are received.

2. Sign on to www.missioncalvary.com to receive up-to-date prayer requests, and communicate with missionaries through the site.

3. WRITE OR E-MAIL AT LEAST ONCE A MONTH - It's most encouraging for a missionary to receive a letter or an e-mail. It does not need to be laborious and it does not require a lot of time.

A. Send an e-mail, text message, postcard, or letter. Add them as a friend on Facebook!

B. In the message, tell about what you are doing; family, friends; struggles, victories, events; church news; local and national news; current events; the weather.

C. The most important part of the message is... I'm praying for you daily... Ask for your missionary's prayer requests and praise reports and share your own prayer requests and praise reports. Involve the missionary in your life to deepen the relationship.

4. PHONE THEM - Nothing encourages a missionary more than a phone call. Call on their birthday or periodically just to say "hi."

5. SEND CARE PACKAGES QUARTERLY

A. A small package or manila envelope filled with simple items: CDs, magazines, newspaper comics, paperback books, match box cars, stuffed animals, coloring books, gum, chocolates, toothpaste, soap, shampoo, pens, pads of paper, bookmarks, brownies, etc.

B. Useful items not available in the country -ask what they are- missionaries will tell you! Ask your missionary for special mailing instructions to avoid excessive duty in customs for them.

6. FINANCES - You may want to bless your adoptee with extra money. If you want your donation to be tax deductible, write a check to Calvary Chapel Costa Mesa. You may note the missionary's name on a separate envelope or note. Do not place any individual's name in the memo section of the check. Contributions are solicited with the understanding that the gift is made to Calvary Chapel Costa Mesa and the church has complete discretion and control over the use of all donated funds. You can also donate online to individual missionaries here: http://cccm.com/give/, click on Missions.

7. REMEMBER BIRTHDAYS AND ANNIVERSARIES - This demonstrates a loving concern for your adopted missionary. Sign the card in light pencil or enclose a note so that the card can be used again. Cards in English may be hard to find.

8. HOSTING NEED - Pray about hosting the missionaries while they come in to town for furlogh, or give a special donation to help them travel.
